New Age Indigo Children & Medical Astrology
By: Laurel Ann Browne

The New Generation has Arrived!

They have been called the Ritalin Generation, ADHD, ADD out of control, Autistic, and youth who just don't seem to fit. They are awesome! When these children began arriving on this planet in the early 70's with a mass wave coming in the 80's we began to see a generational behavior pattern globally that astrological professionals acknowledged immediately. Teachers, academic professionals and schools also noticed the difference in these children, now adults. It was so intense because of their advanced nervous systems suited for the speed of the high-tech era, microwave food syndrome and information highway that is unfolding now. They grew up bewildered because they already knew what we could not see or understand. They have come to teach us about ourselves. These highly psychic children, sometimes called "the Indigos" are the pioneers who communicate telepathically. The strength and difficulty of the Planet Uranus applied in these charts, shows that some of them are simply "wired" differently. Their nervous system process can act on amazing quantities of images and information in seconds. Much of what goes on in school bores them as they are prone to following their own highly purposeful agendas. When tested by teachers and professionals, many place in the gifted range across the board. Some of these qualities of uniqueness cause problems for them as children. They have chosen to be born under charts that reflect the abilities and strengths they will need in a brave new 21st Century. Many of our Autistic diagnosed children do not speak until sometimes age 4 and 5; they communicate telepathically and therefore feel no need to speak! They are healers, come to us with so much love and light and they continue to endure our ignorance because they "know" that someday we will begin to accept and understand them. They have suffered insurmountable accounts of misunderstanding, misdiagnoses and many continue to remain unrecognized for their gifts.

Parents of these children can help them accomplish their goals and mission by understanding the Astrology Chart which is the DNA

Blueprint of their souls, their purpose and challenges. Did you ever wonder why some remedies work for some and not all? Each sign of the Zodiac has weak and strong points that influence the mind, body and spirit. All children relate to their Moon Sign position until around the age of 16. The Sun Sign is there but not acted out which is why some people don't understand why their Aries daughter or son is so shy and timid because he/she has a Pisces Moon. Each sign also correlates to the physical body. There are specific herbs and homeopathy remedies that correspond. If you have a child that constantly has a sore throat (not expressing their feelings) then you know they will respond to Taurus remedies, as this is the Throat Chakra. The following signs describe what your child's traits and weaknesses are, but also how they act and react if it is their Moon Sign. (ages 1-16).
